Dear Reserve National Policyholder:

You are being given this notice because of your health insurance coverage with Reserve National Insurance Company (in this notice, both companies are referred to collectively as “Reserve National”, “we”, “us” or “our”.) This notice describes how we maintain the privacy of your PHI we have, and how we may use and disclose that information. Protected health information includes individually identifiable information that relates to: (1) your past, present or future physical or mental health or condition; (2) your health care; or (3) payment for your past, present or future health care. This notice also describes your rights concerning your protected health information and how you can exercise those rights. We are required to provide this notice to you by a federal law known as the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (“HIPAA”). This notice is effective February 27, 2017.

HIPAA requires us to: (1) maintain the privacy of your PHI; (2) provide you this notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to your protected health information; and (3) follow the terms of this notice. Our employees are required to comply with our requirements that maintain the privacy of PHI and protect it from inappropriate use or disclosure. They may look at your protected health information only when there is an appropriate reason to do so, such as to administer our insurance policies.

How We Use and Disclose PHI

The main reasons for which we may use and disclose your protected health information are to evaluate and process any requests for coverage and claims for benefits you may make. The following describes these and other uses and disclosures, together with some examples:

- For Treatment: We may disclose PHI to doctors, hospitals and other health care providers who treat you. For example, health care providers may request medical information from us to supplement their own records.
- For Payment: We may use and disclose PHI to pay or determine benefits under your health insurance coverage or for various payment-related functions. For example, we may review PHI contained on claims to reimburse providers for services rendered. We may disclose PHI to assist you with your inquiries or disputes. We may also disclose PHI to health care providers who contact us concerning your eligibility for benefits under your health insurance coverage with us.
- For Health Care Operations: We may also use and disclose PHI for our insurance operations. These purposes include evaluating a request for health insurance, underwriting, premium rating, administering our health insurance policies and processing transactions requested by you. We may disclose PHI to our agents, if they need to receive it to assist you or us.

We may also disclose PHI to companies affiliated with us, and to business associates, if they need to receive it to provide a service to us, and they agree to abide by specific HIPAA rules relating to the protection of PHI. An example of a business associate is a company that provides general administrative services. PHI may be disclosed to reinsurers for underwriting, audit or claim review reasons. PHI may also be disclosed as part of a potential merger or acquisition involving our business in order to make an informed business decision regarding any such prospective transaction.

• To Others Involved in Your Health Care: We may disclose your PHI to a relative, a friend or any other person you identify, provided the information is directly relevant to that person's involvement with your health care or payment for that care. For example, if a family member or caregiver calls us with prior knowledge of a policy or claim, we may confirm benefits that may or may not be payable, whether a claim has been received and paid or if we need any additional information to process the claim, and any premiums that may have been paid or may be due.

• Where Required by Law or for Public Health Activities: We may disclose PHI when required by federal, state or local law. Examples of such mandatory disclosures include providing PHI to a governmental agency or regulator with public health oversight authority or health care oversight or to proper authorities regarding victims of abuse or neglect.

• To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety: We may disclose protected health information to avert a serious threat to someone's health or safety, or to federal, state or local agencies engaged in disaster relief and private disaster relief or disaster assistance agencies to allow such entities to assist in disaster situations.

• For Health-Related Benefits or Services: We may use and disclose PHI to provide you with information about benefits available to you under your current coverage or policy and about health-related products or services that may be of interest to you. For example, we may disclose protected health information to our agents for such purposes.

• For Law Enforcement or Specific Government Functions: We may disclose PHI in response to a request by a law enforcement official made through a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process. We may disclose protected health information about you to government officials for law enforcement, correctional, intelligence, counterintelligence and other national security activities authorized by law.

• When Requested as Part of a Regulatory or Legal Proceeding: If you or your estate is involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose PHI about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose protected health information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if we receive satisfactory assurance that efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the PHI requested. We may disclose PHI to any governmental agency or regulator with whom you have filed a complaint or as part of an examination by a regulatory agency. We may also disclose PHI to comply with laws relating to any claim for benefits under workers' compensation or other similar programs.

• For Research Purposes: We may disclose PHI for research projects that are subject to a special governmental approval process.

• To Coroners, Medical Examiners and Funeral Directors and for Organ and Tissue Donation: We may disclose PHI to a coroner, medical examiner or funeral director for purposes authorized by law or for funeral-related duties. We may also disclose PHI to facilitate organ/tissue donation and transplantation where an individual is an organ/tissue donor.

• Other Uses of PHI: Other uses and disclosures of PHI not described in notice but which are permitted by law will be made only with your written authorization or that of your legal representative. If we are authorized to use or disclose PHI about you, you or your legal representative may revoke that authorization, in writing, at any time, except to the extent that we have taken action relying on the authorization or if the authorization was obtained as a condition of obtaining your health insurance coverage. We would not be able to take back any disclosures we have already made pursuant to an authorization.

Your Rights Regarding Protected Health Information We Maintain About You

Under HIPAA, you have the following rights concerning your PHI:

• Right to Inspect and Copy Your PHI: In most cases, you have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of the PHI that we maintain about you. To inspect and copy PHI, you must submit your request in writing to us at Reserve National Insurance Company, Attention: Privacy Officer, 601 East Britton Road, Oklahoma City, OK 73114-7710. To receive a copy of your PHI, you may be charged a fee for the costs of copying, mailing or other supplies associated with your request. However, certain types of PHI will not be made available for inspection and copying. This includes psychotherapy notes and may also include PHI collected by us in connection with, or in reasonable anticipation of any claim or legal proceeding. In very limited circumstances we may deny your request to inspect and obtain a copy of your PHI. If we do, you may request that the denial be reviewed. An individual we choose who was not involved in the original decision to deny your request will conduct the review. We will comply with the outcome of that review.

• Right to Amend Your PHI: If you believe that your PHI is incorrect or incomplete, you have the right to ask us to amend your PHI while it is kept by or for us. You must provide your request and your reason for the request in writing, and submit it to us at the address noted above. We may deny your request if it is not in writing or does not include a reason that supports the request. In addition, we may deny your request if you ask us to amend PHI that: (1) is accurate and complete; (2) was not created by us, unless the person or entity that created the PHI is no longer available to make the amendment; (3) is not part of the PHI kept by or for us; or (4) is not part of the protected health information that you would be permitted to inspect and copy.

• Right to a List of Disclosures: You have the right to request a list of the disclosures of your PHI we have made. This list will not include disclosures made for treatment, payment, health care operations; incident to an otherwise permitted use or disclosure; for purposes of national security; to law enforcement or to corrections personnel; to certain individuals involved in your care; or pursuant to your authorization or made directly to you.

To request this list, you must submit your request in writing to the address noted above. Your request must state the time period from which you want to receive a list of disclosures. The time period may not be longer than six years and may not include dates before April 14, 2003, or such earlier date as may be provided under HIPAA. Your request should indicate in what form you want the list (for example, on paper or electronically). The first list you request within a 12-month period will be free. We may charge you for responding to any additional requests. We will notify you of the cost involved and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request at that time before any costs are incurred.

• Right to Request Restrictions: You have the right to request a restriction or limitation on PHI we use or disclose about you for treatment, payment or health care operations, or that we disclose to someone who may be involved in your care or payment for your care, like a family member or friend. While we will consider your request, we are not required to agree to it. If we do agree to it, we will comply with your request. To request a restriction, you must make your request in writing to the address noted above. In your request, you must tell us: (1) what information you want to limit; (2) whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both; and (3) to whom you want the limits to apply (for example, disclosures to your spouse or parent). We will not agree to restrictions on PHI uses or disclosures that are legally required, or which are necessary to administer our business.

• Right to Request Confidential Communications: You have the right to request that we communicate with you about PHI in a certain way or at a certain location if you tell us that communication in another manner may endanger you. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or by mail.
